DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 1-9 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Caveney et al.'621 as set forth in the previous Office action.

In reference to applicant's arguments is the following: Firstly, the applicant amended the claims to contain a "plurality" of repair subscribers and argues that Caveney fails to teach this limitation. The applicant draws this conclusion by referencing the figure 2, reference numeral 214 feature of Caveney labeled a "supply source" and further argues that this constitutes a single subscriber. The examiner disagrees. It is obvious and well known to one of ordinary skill in the art that a supply source commonly contains a plurality of vendors and therefore a "plurality" of subscribers. Further, the applicant discusses "reverse supplying". This appears to be obvious and analogous to returning parts/items to vendors or warehouses due to being overstocked or ordered by another allied company/service and is clearly something that is well known and done commonly throughout the industry.

Applicant's arguments filed March 29, 2004 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
